

HEALTHYHENS – OPEN SCIENTIFIC WORKSHOP

27.08.2014 11:00 TO 16:00 UNIVERSITY OF VETERINARY MEDICINE VETERINÄRPLATZ 1
VIENNA

Presentation and open discussion of preliminary results of the European CORE organic II research project HealthyHens – Good health and welfare in organic laying hens

AGENDA

11:00	welcoming, round of introductions	(Ute Knierim)
11:30 to 12:00	introduction of the project and status quo results	(Christine Brenninkmeyer)
12:00 to 12:30	parasite burden	(N.N.)
12:30 to 13:15	lunch break (snacks and sandwiches)
13:15 to 13:45	use of the free range	(Alice Willett)
13:45 to 14:15	feather and injurious pecking	(Monique Bestman)
14:15 to 14:45	other health problems (keel bones, food pads, ...)	(Knut Niebuhr)
14:45 to 15:00	short coffee break
15:00 to 16:00	open discussion:	(chair: Ute Knierim)
	? evaluation of results in the light of other studies / experiences
	? identification of areas with highest need for action
	? recommendations for the course of action: for farmers, advisors, legislation, research...
	? conflicting recommendations for different outcomes?
	? differences between countries and consequences?
16:00	closing	(Knut Niebuhr)

FOR MORE INFORMATION AND REGISTRATION:

Christine Brenninkmeyer, University of Kassel, Witzenhausen, Germany
+49-5542-981541, fax +49-561-8041646, brenninkmeyer@wiz.uni-kassel.de

Knut Niebuhr, University of Veterinary Medicine, Vienna, Austria
+43-1-25077-4906, Knut.Niebuhr@vetmeduni.ac.at no registration fee

